Chairman's Message

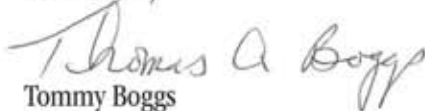

It is my honor and privilege to provide you with this comprehensive report on the activities and accomplishments for the Bossier community in 2016. As Bossier continues to grow and outpace expectations the Greater Bossier Economic Development Foundation has focused on positioning Bossier to be competitive in securing new jobs and investment.

2016 brought the anticipated opening of CSRA's Integrated Technology Center located in the National Cyber Research Park. CSRA also announced plans to open a Customer Engagement Center in Bossier City off of Benton Road. Both projects are well underway to adding 1100 new jobs to this community by 2018. The year also brought continued interest and commercial development to the area's industrial parks. Coburn Supply Company announced a $1.5 million dollar expansion inside the Commerce Industrial Park and with it added an additional 50 jobs to the market.

Our economic development agenda focuses on delivering industry diversity and allows the GBEDF to support and invest in initiatives that sustain our community. This agenda could not be accomplished without your support and investment to make Bossier prosperous. It is my belief that the GBEDF continues to be a good steward of investment dollars entrusted to us by our members and the local business community. These funds have allowed us to impact the community by enhancing business development in our regional economy, providing us with the ability to not only support business development but also quality of life and tourism efforts for events that are true assets in our community. The GBEDF provides financial support for events such as the annual Barksdale Air Force Base Air Show and other efforts to support the growth of BAFB, the Independence Bowl Foundation, Rockets Over the Red, and efforts for the completion of long-range projects such as the I-49 and I-69 corridors.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I would like to thank you for your continued support, your confidence, and your eager participation in our mission. I would like to thank our governmental supporters at the City of Bossier City, Bossier Parish, NLCOG, and our Louisiana delegation along with LED, who have worked with us to establish Bossier and Northwest Louisiana as the most dynamic economy in the state. We are proud of our partnerships and look forward to the continued working relationships in our community.

Best Wishes,

Tommy Boggs
Chairman

Growth & Development

Governor Cuts Ribbon on New CSRA Headquarters in Bossier City

Bossier City, Parish Projected to Add 20,000 Residents by 2019

Bossier City and Bossier Parish are expected to experience a boom in population over the next few years, and administrators believe strong law enforcement, good schools and a reputation for being progressive are all factors in that growth. Bossier City experienced a steady growth of 8,500 people from 1990 to 2010. But in only four years between 2015 and 2019, the city is predicted to add another 12,000 residents.

Walk-Ons Announces Bossier City Location

The Bossier City Walk-Ons located at 3010 Airline Drive opened this summer and is located in the former Santa Fe Cattle Co. location. The redeveloped space is 7,500 square feet, with seating for approximately 260 guests. Owner Chris McJunkins states that 200 new jobs were added to the city.

PCI Gaming Authority Purchases Margaritaville in Bossier City

PCI Gaming Authority (PCI) d/b/a/ Wind Creek Hospitality (WCH), an authority of the Poarch Band of Creek Indians, and Bossier Casino Venture (Holdco), Inc. (BCV), owner and operator of the Margaritaville Resort Casino in Bossier City, LA, entered into an agreement whereby PCI acquired 100% of BCV's interest in the property. Since opening in June 2013, the property has won numerous awards in many types of design and service categories from a variety of regional gaming and hospitality publications.

Jay Dorris, President and Chief Executive Officer of WCH, commented; "We are proud of the quality and attention to customer service that characterizes our three successful gaming operations in the State of Alabama. We believe that Margaritaville Resort Casino in Bossier City is a great fit with our operating philosophy and will provide us the opportunity to further establish Wind Creek Hospitality as the premier operator of first class casino resorts in the Southeast."

DiamondJacks Acquired by Los Angeles Investment Manager

The casino resort announced its acquisition by private Los Angeles-based investment manager Peninsula Pacific in late June. The company specializes in customized capital solutions for businesses in the gaming, consumer and industrial sectors that are both established and developing.

Twisted Root Takes on New Theme in Bossier Hangar

Twisted Root's new hangar-themed restaurant in Bossier is a tribute to our local Barksdale Air Force Base with its expanse of wild blue yonder and signs directing patrons to the tarmac. Twisted Root Bossier is a great addition to the growing commercial landscape on Airline Drive.

CHRISTUS Health Shreveport-Bossier Breaks Ground On New Facility in Bossier

CHRISTUS Health Shreveport-Bossier  CHRISTUS. Health Shreveport-Bossier announced plans to construct and operate a new facility in north Bossier, expanding access to high-quality health care in Northwest Louisiana. Rather than building a traditional hospital in Bossier, the faith-based health system recognized an opportunity to bring a new model of healthcare to the region in the form of a 'micro-hospital'.

"CHRISTUS Bossier Emergency Center is the first and only of its kind in the region, and we are excited and honored to bring this innovative model of care to the area," said Isaac Palmer, CHRISTUS Health Shreveport-Bossier Chief Executive Officer. "CHRISTUS is responding to the Bossier medical community and residents for more access to health care while continuing our mission of extending the healing ministry of Jesus Christ."

In 2013 the health system announced an expansion of services and facilities to the Highland campus, a commitment to provide more access points for primary care and outpatient services, as well as further expansion into Bossier.

Transportation & Infrastructure

DOTD to Build New Bridge in South Bossier

The Louisiana Department of Transportation and Development canceled the contract for the Jimmie Davis Bridge rehabilitation project. Instead, the appropriated money will be diverted toward the design and ultimate construction of a new bridge in south Bossier. Louisiana Governor John Bel Edwards said a new bridge is a “common-sense solution” to making the best use of the state’s financial resources.

“By working with our state and local partners, we have developed a new strategy that will better serve Northwest Louisiana,” Gov. Edwards said. “The rehabilitation project would have spent more than $20 million and would not address the overall problem. I’m confident that this is the wisest investment for Louisiana and the best approach to address the transportation challenges in the Shreveport-Bossier region.”

State Gives Green Light to NWLA for $60 Million in Federal Transportation Grant

Governor John Bel Edwards and Shawn Wilson, Secretary of the Louisiana Department of Transportation and Development (LADOTD), announced that Louisiana will receive $60 million in FASTLANE grant funding from the United States Department of Transportation (DOT). The funds will be dedicated to advancing design of the I-20/220 interchange into Barksdale. The project will cost an estimated $60 million to $80 million depending on which design alternative is chosen and how much of the original design is usable.

after members of the parish police jury awarded a bid late last year of just over $409,000 to E. J. Furnell for aggregate road improvements.

Stockwell & Shed Roads get Safety, Traffic Upgrades with New Lights

In December 2016, the Bossier City Council approved to appropriate $380,000 from the Sales Tax Capital Improvement Fund to design and construct traffic signals for the Stockwell Road/Shed Road intersection and Hickory Ridge Road/Shed Road intersection. Traffic lights at the intersections have been long-awaited by residents in the northeast portion of Bossier City.

Rural Area in Bossier Parish Could Soon be Bustling with Business

A total of 61 acres of land north of I-220 near Bossier Parish School for Technology and Innovative Learning (BPSTIL) will accommodate a new Honda dealership in the near future. The Bossier City Council approved the annexation of the 61 acres with the main goal of increased sales tax revenue in mind for the property. Additionally, the city plans to build a new road called Innovation Drive that will connect access to the dealership from Greenacres Blvd via this area to Swan Lake Road. The city hopes the new road will attract new commercial businesses.

Arthur Ray Teague Parkway Extension

Runners and cyclists will have more room to roam alongside the Red River very soon. The two-mile extension of the Arthur Ray Teague Parkway asphalt multi-use trail in Bossier City is almost complete. The $1.1 million project was funded by the waterway commission and began in September 2016. The construction extends the path from where it previously ended in front of the CenturyLink Center and lengthens it to the Red River National Wildlife Refuge boat launch. Benches have been added along the newer part of the path and a new pavilion was constructed at the boat launch.

2016 Brings Big Push for Progress on I-69

Efforts to get funding and support for the planned Interstate 69 route through northwest Louisiana picked up in recent months following the opening of Interstate 49 North to motorists. The GBEDF is involved in advocating for this long-range plan and is committed to support the ongoing efforts in order to make help the project come to fruition.

Bossier - A Decade of Prosperity

Your Partnership

Our Economic Development Agenda

The Greater Bossier Economic Development Foundation (GBEDF) is the leadership organization for economic development in Bossier City and Bossier Parish. Our goal is to position Bossier to be competitive in securing new jobs and investment. Beyond our partnership with local governments, we also support regional efforts sponsored by the Port of Caddo Bossier, BRF, Cyber Innovation Center, Barksdale Air Force Base and the North Louisiana Economic Partnership in order to diversify our local economy.

We place emphasis on funding projects and initiatives that create jobs for the local economy. Our community investment impacts workforce development, manufacturing, quality of life, infrastructure upgrades, and assists Bossier's rural communities in economic development.

Over the past three decades, the GBEDF has impacted the community by enhancing business development in our regional economy thanks to our stewardship of investment dollars entrusted to us by our membership and the local business community. Below is a snapshot of a few of GBEDF's investments in the community throughout our history:

Business Infrastructure

$452,318 for Local Business Infrastructure

Manufacturers, businesses and consumers benefit from infrastructure investments and developments. The GBEDF has provided nearly half a million dollars over the last decade to local businesses needing upgrades to enhance production. Working through Bossier City, the foundation has funded various projects such as the Viking Drive Expansion and the Commerce Park Road and Drainage. The foundation actively supports long-range plans for the I-49 and I-69 corridors.

Workforce Development

$750,000 Investment in Education and Training

GBEDF supports workforce development and education initiatives from K-12 all the way through higher education. Over the past 10 years alone we have invested nearly $750,000 in innovative, local education projects such as the Center for Advanced Manufacturing at BPCC and the Bio Tech Program at Bossier High School.

Job Creation

$523,000 for Job Creation and Retention

The GBEDF supports existing industries crucial for the diversification of our local economy. GBEDF is an active partner on the issues involving the health and strength of Barksdale Air Force Base and was critical in the development of the foundation of Bossier City's National Cyber Research Park and the Cyber Innovation Center. The GBEDF also partners with incubators like Cohab across the region to help nurture "homegrown" talent. The foundation has also provided the funds for economic impact studies that help the City and Parish to plan for future trends.

Quality of Life / Tourism

$675,000 Investment in Events and Promotion

Quality of life issues are critical to economic development. The type of community that will attract and retain a productive workforce and be suitable for long term commercial investments must be one that demonstrates a commitment to culture and recreation. Tourism and entertainment also play a significant role in economic development. GBEDF sponsors events such as the Independence Bowl, Rockets Over the Red, and the Barksdale Air Show to stimulate travel and tourism activity. GBEDF has invested in a digital presence for Bossier with the recent production of an area quality of life video used by our members to recruit employees to the area for companies like CSRA. The foundation's website has also been overhauled to reflect the community's economic offerings and provides decision-making tools and data for growing businesses.

New Jobs for Bossier

CSRA Customer Engagement Center

In early 2014, CSRA announced Bossier City as one of its new locations and shared plans to build its Integrated Technology Center (ITC) in Bossier Parish's Cyber Research Park, bringing with it 800 new jobs to the area. GBEDF was approached by CSRA in September of 2015 about bringing a Customer Engagement Center to the area to serve as support for the company's operations in addition to its newly announced ITC.

Although the proposed Customer Engagement Center had an existing company base here in the area, another community was being considered for the location making this a competitive process. The GBEDF was able to respond in a short time frame by identifying the client's needs and providing an efficient process of site selection for commercial development to help the company launch in its desired time frame. The GBEDF also helped to address the company's workforce needs. The result of our dedication and flexibility to meet the client's needs helped us to expand the Bossier job market and add 300 new employees to the area all while reviving a vacant office building near Downtown Bossier.

Coburn Supply Company

Bossier Parish is viewed as a forward-thinking community dedicated to supporting business growth and development. No one can express it better than the actual businesses who look to our community to help grow their business. "We chose to invest in Bossier because Bossier invests in itself.", explains Coburn's V.P. & General Manager, Darren Tramel. Coburn Supply Company approached the GBEDF about their interest in developing land located inside the Commerce Industrial Park at I-220 and Shed Road where they planned to construct a new showroom and warehouse facility from the ground up. The GBEDF assisted in facilitating the negotiations to purchase the land used for the new development. The $1.5 million dollar commercial development would help the company to expand its services to the regional market and create approximately 50 new jobs in Bossier.

Breaking ground for Coburn's new showroom and warehouse facility.

A Digital Presence for Bossier

Positioning the region to support continued economic advancements and show the quality of life here in Northwest Louisiana is top priority for the Greater Bossier Economic Development Foundation (GBEDF). This commitment has led the GBEDF to make investments in Bossier's digital presence.

The foundation recently launched an entire re-branding initiative which afforded the organization the ability to look strategically at how Bossier presented itself. These efforts helped to shape the foundation's new website which is dedicated to doing business in Bossier. Additionally, a quality of life video was created to capture unique Bossier-Shreveport area offerings.

A community's digital presence is now often its first impression; a one-time opportunity to offer a virtual handshake. We believe our focus on a digital presence will help to creatively communicate the area's accolades and unique culture. Our new site details decision-making resources, information, and statistics which serves as a valuable tool in marketing the area.

BPCC Honors GBEDF for investment in workforce needs

Bossier Parish Community College, in collaboration with the BPCC Foundation, recognized the Greater Bossier Economic Development Foundation (GBEDF) for the investments the organization has made to support Bossier Parish Community College, and address current and future workforce needs for the local manufacturing industry. GBEDF was honored at a ceremony for its $700,000 contribution to build the college's Center for Advanced Manufacturing training facility.

The investment by the GBEDF stands as a testimony to all the hard work and planning made by various partners to insure a long term workforce opportunity for northwest Louisiana. The facility has already proven to be a focus for regional manufacturers in their training efforts and has been a beacon for other prospective interested parties in our market to locate here knowing they too can train a qualified workforce utilizing this one of a kind facility.

Executive Director's Message

The Officers and Directors of the Greater Bossier Economic Development Foundation would like to take this opportunity to thank our Foundation members and investors, the City and Parish of Bossier, and LED along with our elected officials, regional economic development partners and the Bossier Chamber of Commerce for helping us to accomplish great things in 2016. Bossier's continued growth and innovative approach to community and economic development have put our community in the national spotlight on more than one occasion in 2016.

David R. "Rocky" Rockett, Jr.

This steady growth has allowed the GBEDF to look closely at how Bossier is marketed and in response, the GBEDF has made significant investments in the area's digital presence. We spent a large part of 2016 looking internally so that we could be more effective at attracting business development externally. Launching a new website was top priority for the Foundation this year. The new site is dedicated to doing business in Bossier and includes decision-making resources such as monthly economic indicators and statistics and offers an expansive community profile. This is a valuable tool in marketing the area as an attractive place to businesses looking to expand or relocate.

We want the outlying communities and our business partners to know that 'Bossier Means Business'. Our strategy is built on communicating the value of doing business here, and with that comes a responsibility to prove that our area provides a high quality of place for families and individuals. This year the GBEDF created a quality of life video that captures the Bossier-Shreveport area offerings. This video was created as a recruitment tool and is available for use on our website www.gbедf.org.

It's no secret Bossier City and Parish are growing at a fast rate thanks to new business developments and investments in the community. Both Bossier City and Parish are expecting large population growths. GBEDF's population projections show that combined, the city and parish could soar nearly 20,000 additional residents by the year 2019. The increase is largely due to an out of area population relocating for new jobs within the entertainment, IT, defense, oil and gas, and healthcare sectors which are the cornerstones of the local economy.

The population boom brings many expectations and the promise of continued community progression on multiple levels. The GBEDF stands ready to partner and respond to the needs of our changing landscape and looks forward to the continued progress of Bossier.

Sincerely,

David R. "Rocky" Rockett, Jr.
Executive Director
